1. What contributions can be made?

The ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover only accepts tax-paid rollovers from other complying superannuation funds.

If you are making contributions to other superannuation accounts, you should be aware of the contribution caps.

Contribution caps

The concessional contribution cap for the 2021/22 financial year is $27,500

The concessional contribution cap is indexed to Average Weekly Ordinary Time Earnings (AWOTE) but will only increase in $2,500 increments.

Concessional contributions are generally made by you or for you in a financial year and are included as assessable income for the superannuation fund, including:

- employer contributions (such as Superannuation Guarantee, award, and salary sacrifice contributions) and
- personal contributions for which a tax deduction has been claimed.

Note: Concessional contributions which are split with a spouse are assessed against your cap and not your spouse's cap.

From 1 July 2018, you can carry forward any unused portion of your concessional contributions cap to add contributions above the cap in subsequent years, on a rolling basis for a period of up to 5 years. The first financial year in which you can increase your concessional contributions cap by the amount of unused cap is 2019-20. To be eligible for the carry forward, you must have a total superannuation balance* of less than $500,000 at the end of 30 June in the previous year.

The non-concessional contribution cap for the 2021/22 financial year is $110,000 (being four times the concessional contributions cap)

- annual cap: $110,000
- maximum with a three year 'bring forward' option: $330,000.

Your non-concessional contribution cap will be nil for a financial year if you have a total superannuation balance* greater than or equal to the transfer balance cap at the end of 30 June of the previous financial year. In this case if you make non-concessional contributions in that year, they will be excess non-concessional contributions.

Note: The transfer balance cap for the 2020/21 financial year was $1.6 million. From 1 July 2021, all individuals will have a personal transfer balance cap of between $1.6 million and $1.7 million, and the precise amount of the personal transfer balance cap applicable to an individual will depend on their individual circumstances. For more information, go to www.ato.gov.au

Non-concessional contributions are generally made by you or for you in a financial year and are not included as assessable income for the superannuation fund, including:

- personal contributions for which no tax deduction has been claimed
- spouse contributions
- non-assessable portions of a foreign superannuation fund amount, and
- contributions in excess of your concessional contributions cap.

Note: If you are less than age 67 at 1 July of the financial year in which the contributions were made, you may be eligible for the 'bring forward' option. This effectively allows you to contribute up to three times the annual non-concessional contributions cap in a single year.

The non-concessional contributions cap amount that you can bring forward, and whether you have a two or three year bring forward period, depends on your total superannuation balance.*

The Federal Government has proposed to remove the requirement for people aged 67 to 74 to meet the work test to make or receive non-concessional contributions (including under the 'bring forward' option), effective 1 July 2022. As at the date of this document, this proposal has not yet been made law. For more information, go to www.ato.gov.au

There are exemptions to the non-concessional contribution cap, which include:

- government co-contributions
- downsizer contributions
- eligible proceeds that relate to capital gains tax (CGT) small business concessions up to a lifetime limit of $1,615,000 (2021/22 financial year)
- payments that relate to structured settlements or orders for personal injuries (no limits apply).

*Your total superannuation balance consists of the total amount of your superannuation interest(s) and all other superannuation accounts (including any pensions you hold through superannuation) less any personal injury or structured settlement contributions that have been paid into your superannuation. Please speak to your financial adviser or a qualified tax professional for further information regarding how your total superannuation balance is calculated and the rules as they relate to the bring forward option for non-concessional contributions.

2. When can benefits be accessed?

Your superannuation benefit is the total of all amounts rolled over, plus investment earnings, insurance proceeds (if any), less fees, taxes, insurance premiums (if any) and other charges.

Your superannuation benefit may contain the following preservation components:

- Preserved benefits – These benefits can only be accessed if you meet a condition of release as specified in superannuation law. Since 1 July 1999, all new contributions to your superannuation and investment earnings accruing from that date are preserved benefits.
- Restricted non-preserved benefits – This is the portion of your superannuation typically comprising personal after tax contributions and certain voluntary employer contributions, which cannot be withdrawn until you meet a condition of release, or leave the employment of the employer who made the contributions to your fund.
All such contributions must have been made before 1 July 1999.
- Unrestricted non-preserved benefits – These are benefits that you are already entitled to withdraw, but have voluntarily decided to keep in the superannuation system.

Conditions of release

Preserved benefits are only accessible if you meet a condition of release, which include:

- you have permanently retired from the workforce and reached your preservation age (see Preservation age table in next column)
- you terminate a gainful employment arrangement after turning 60 years of age
- you turn age 65, whether you have retired or not
- you have reached your preservation age and have effected a transition to retirement pension or non-commutable income stream
- you suffer permanent or temporary incapacity[^]
- your death
- you qualify on compassionate grounds[^]
- you suffer severe financial hardship[^]
- you held an eligible temporary resident visa and have departed Australia permanently[^]
- you have a terminal medical condition[^]

- you have an account balance of less than $200[^], or
- you or the Commissioner of Taxation provide the fund with a Release Authority[^].

[^] Under superannuation law there are strict qualifying criteria that must be met in each of these circumstances.

Departing Australia superannuation payment

If you are a temporary resident (excluding subclass 405 and 410 visaholders and New Zealand citizens) and you permanently depart Australia and your visa has ceased to be in effect, we are obliged to transfer your unclaimed super to the ATO after the later of six months of your departure or cessation of your visa. On transfer of your super benefit to the ATO, you will cease to be a member of the HUB24 Super Fund and you will need to claim your super benefit directly from the ATO.

In these circumstances, as we rely on ASIC relief, we are not required to notify you of the transfer or provide you with an Exit Statement or any other exit disclosure. If you are or become an Australian citizen or permanent resident or a New Zealand citizen, the obligation to transfer your super benefit to the ATO does not apply and you can continue to be a member of the HUB24 Super Fund.

Preservation age

The table below shows the preservation ages, which depend on your date of birth:

When you were born	Preservation age
Before 1 July 1960	55
Between 1 July 1960 and 30 June 1961	56
Between 1 July 1961 and 30 June 1962	57
Between 1 July 1962 and 30 June 1963	58
Between 1 July 1963 and 30 June 1964	59
After 1 July 1964	60

3. How will the benefit be paid upon death?

To whom and how are death benefits paid?

Under superannuation law, death benefits must be paid to 'dependants' and/or your Legal Personal Representative.

If you have no 'dependants' or Legal Personal Representative, benefits can then be paid to someone who is not a dependant and this will be determined by us at our discretion.

Who is a 'dependant'?

A 'dependant' as defined under superannuation law includes:

- your spouse, which includes:
 - a person to whom you are married
 - a person who, although not legally married to you, lives with you on a genuine domestic basis in a relationship as a couple regardless of whether you are of the same sex or opposite sex, and
 - a person with whom you are in a relationship that is registered under the Relationships Act 2008 (Vic), Relationships Act 2003 (Tas), Relationships Register Act 2016 (SA), Domestic Relationships Act 1994 (ACT), Births, Deaths and Marriages Registration Act 1997 (ACT), Relationships Register Act 2010 (NSW) or the Civil Partnerships Act 2011 (Qld),
- your child, which includes:
 - an adopted child, step child or an ex-nuptial child
 - a child of your spouse
 - a child born to a woman as a result of an artificial conception procedure while that woman was married to you or was your de facto partner
 - a child who is your child because of State or Territory legislation giving effect to a surrogacy arrangement,
- any other person who, in our opinion, was wholly or partially financially dependent on you at the time of your death, and

- a person with whom you had an interdependency relationship at the time of your death. Generally an 'interdependency relationship' is one where two persons, whether or not related:
 - have a close personal relationship
 - live together
 - one or each of them provides the other with financial support, and
 - one or each of them provides the other with domestic support and personal care.

If two persons have a close relationship, but do not satisfy the other requirements because either one or both of them suffer from a disability or they are temporarily living apart, they may still be considered to have an interdependency relationship.

Who is a Legal Personal Representative?

A 'Legal Personal Representative' is the executor of your estate (generally as indicated in your will) or the administrator of your estate (for example, the person appointed by the court to administer your estate where you die without a will).

Payment of death benefits

In the event of your death, your account balance will be payable as a lump sum to your dependant/s, or your Legal Personal Representative, at the Trustee's discretion and in accordance with superannuation law. If the Trustee is required to pay or has decided to pay all or part of the death benefit to your Legal Personal Representative, and a Legal Personal Representative is not appointed within 90 days of your death (or such longer period determined by the Trustee), the Trustee will use its discretion to determine the way the death benefit is paid, in what proportions, and to whom. In doing this, the Trustee will pay your benefit to one or more of your dependants in the first instance or if none, in accordance with superannuation law.

4. Additional explanation of fees and costs

Indirect costs

The indirect costs for funds invested in the ClearView ClearChoice Super Cash Fund option for the 2021/22 financial year from the date of the PDS, adjusted to reflect a 12 month period, is estimated to be 1.1% p.a. gross of income tax (or 0.94% p.a. after adjusting for the tax deductions available to the Fund, which are passed on to members and which effectively reduce the amount charged to members). The actual indirect costs that will apply for the financial year (and in subsequent financial years) will depend on the actual fees, costs and taxes incurred. The indirect cost is charged and retained by ClearView Life. It is an indirect cost to members as it is reflected in the unit price of the investment option.

Indirect costs are reflected in the 'Indirect cost ratio' (ICR) of the investment option (which is defined under the heading 'Defined fees' on page 8).

What do the indirect costs cover?

The indirect costs are used to pay for:

- all GST inclusive expenses relating to the investment option, other than the costs of the investments themselves and other associated transaction costs such as stamp duty and brokerage;
- costs relating to ongoing selection and monitoring of investment managers;
- management fees charged by the underlying investment managers;
- the cost of the administration of the HUB24 Super Fund including compulsory Government reporting;
- reporting to HUB24 Super Fund members on performance through statements, publication of the HUB24 Super Fund Annual Report and our regular publications; and
- transactional and operational costs to the investment option.

Transactional and operational costs

Transactional and operational costs represent the costs of investing through the investment option. These costs include brokerage, settlement costs, clearing costs, stamp duty and the transactional and operating costs of the underlying fund that this product invests in. These costs are paid to the external manager, are an additional cost to you and form part of the indirect cost ratio disclosed in the fees and costs table within the PDS.

They are calculated daily and factored into the unit price of the investment option. It is not deducted directly from your account. The transactional and operational costs for the investment option for the 2021/22 financial year from the date of the PDS, adjusted to reflect a 12 month period, is estimated to be 1.1% p.a. gross of income tax (or 0.94% after adjusting for the tax deductions available to the Fund, which are passed on to members and which effectively reduce the amount charged to members).

Buy-sell spread

A buy-sell spread may be charged by ClearView Life under the life investment policy issued to the Trustee by ClearView Life. If ClearView Life charges such a buy-sell spread, the Trustee will pass on the cost of the buy-sell spread to members. The cost is paid to ClearView Life and is an additional cost to you.

You incur a buy-sell spread when you invest in and withdraw from the ClearView ClearChoice Super Cash Fund. This cost is reflected in the daily unit price of the investment option. A buy-sell spread is charged to contribute to the transactional costs incurred in relation to the sale and purchase of investment assets. At the time of publishing the buy-sell spread for the ClearView ClearChoice Super Cash Fund is 0% p.a.

Other fees and costs

Certain fees and costs may be charged in relation to superannuation products, including the fees and costs defined in the next section (except for exit fees, which cannot be charged). Additional fees and charges may be introduced (see under the heading 'Increases or alterations to the fees and costs' on page 9).

There are no insurance fees associated with ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover. However, your money in ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover can be used to pay insurance fees for cover held through ClearView ClearChoice Super. Entry and exit fees cannot be charged. Please refer to the ClearView ClearChoice Super combined Product Disclosure Statement and Policy Document, which is available free of charge online at clearview.com.au or by contacting us on 132 979, for information on the cost of insurance cover.

ClearView ClearChoice Super is issued by HTFS

Nominees Pty Limited as the Trustee for the HUB24 Super Fund. You should consider the ClearView ClearChoice Super combined Product Disclosure Statement and Policy Document in deciding whether to acquire or continue to hold the product. You can find the target market determination for this product at clearview.com.au/tmd.

For information about taxes applicable to this product, please refer to section 7 of the ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover PDS and section 5 of this document.

Note: A fee deducted from a member's account or paid out of the superannuation entity is not an indirect cost.

Insurance fees

A fee is an insurance fee if:

- (a) the fee relates directly to either or both of the following:
 - (i) insurance premiums paid by the trustee of a superannuation entity in relation to a member or members of the entity;

Increases or alterations to the fees and costs

We may increase existing fees and charges or impose additional fees at our discretion (without your consent) with at least 30 days' advance notice.

In addition, ClearView Life may vary the fees and also introduce new fees or charges for the services that it provides to us by varying the fees under the policy it issues by notification to us (and without your consent). We will consider the actions available to us in respect of any proposed fee variation. If ClearView Life increases or varies the fees or costs under the policy held by us and we determine to pass the fee increase or variation on to the HUB24 Super Fund members or if we otherwise decide to introduce any additional fees or increase existing fees and charges then we will give you at least 30 days' advance notice.

We may at our discretion reduce or waive any of the fees and costs disclosed in the PDS or this Additional Information brochure.

5. How superannuation is taxed

The laws relating to superannuation, including tax laws can be complex. This section has been prepared as a general guide only and is not personal advice.

Tax applying to rollovers

There is generally no tax payable on rollovers between complying superannuation funds (although tax may be payable if a rollover is made from an untaxed superannuation fund). As the HUB24 Super Fund is a taxed superannuation fund and as ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover only accepts tax paid rollovers from other complying superannuation funds, no tax should be payable on rollovers into ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover or on rollovers from ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover to ClearView ClearChoice Super.

Tax File Number (TFN)

Important: You will need to provide us with your TFN as part of your application for this product.

We can collect, use and disclose your TFN under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993 (SIS Act). Declining to provide your TFN is not an offence. However we will not accept your application without a valid TFN.

Giving your TFN to us will have the following advantages:

- we will be able to accept all permitted types of contributions to your account;
- other than the tax that may ordinarily apply, you will not pay more tax than you need to - this affects both contributions to your super and benefit payments when you start drawing down your super benefits; and
- it will make it much easier to find different super accounts in your name so that you receive all your super benefits when you retire.

Please note: If your TFN is found to be invalid:

- more tax may become payable on your benefits than would otherwise be payable; and/or
- if you are eligible, you may not receive your government co-contribution; and/or
- it may become more difficult to locate or amalgamate your superannuation benefits in the future to pay you any benefits you are entitled to.

As a consequence, while you are not required to provide your TFN under super law, if you do not quote your TFN at the time of joining, it is considered an incomplete application.

If you provide your TFN to us, we will use it only for legal purposes, which include:

- calculating tax on any benefit you may be entitled to
- providing information to the Commissioner of Taxation (including disclosing your TFN)
- identifying other accounts you may have within the Fund for consolidation purposes.

When you provide your TFN to us, you consent to us:

- using it to seek information about your superannuation accounts from the ATO using the ATO's SuperMatch program or other facility provided by the ATO; and
- where, as a result, we locate information about superannuation accounts which you hold with other superannuation providers, contacting those providers to confirm the accuracy of the information.

After we have confirmed that you hold superannuation monies with other superannuation providers, we will notify you and you can authorise us to consolidate those accounts on your behalf if you choose to do so.

Please note, the purposes for which we may use your TFN may change in the future following legislative change. The consequences of not providing the TFN may also change in the future.

If you provide your TFN to us, we may provide it to another superannuation fund trustee or retirement savings account provider to whom your benefits are to be transferred, unless you request us not to do so in writing. In all other respects your TFN will be treated as confidential.

Tax on withdrawals

Lump sum withdrawals from superannuation are known as superannuation lump sum payments. The amount of tax payable depends on the individual components making up the benefit and your age at the date of withdrawal (see the 'Age tax treatment' table on the next page for a summary of the tax payable). Any applicable tax will be deducted from your withdrawal benefit.

Age tax treatment

Age	Tax treatment
Under reservation age [#]	Taxable component (taxed element) – taxed at up to 20% plus the Medicare Levy [^] of 2.0%. Tax free component – tax free.
Preservation age to age 59 [#]	Taxable component (taxed element) – Tax free up to the low rate threshold of $225,000*. Amounts over the low rate threshold will be taxed at up to 15% plus the Medicare Levy [^] of 2.0%. Tax free component – tax free.
Age 60 and above	All payments and/or withdrawals will be tax free.

Note: Figures current for 2021/22 year. The table above does not set out the tax treatment for the taxable component (untaxed element) as this product only accepts tax paid rollovers from complying superannuation funds and, therefore, no benefit in this account should have a taxable component (untaxed element). For information on how the different tax components are calculated, go to www.ato.gov.au or consult your financial adviser and/or tax professional.

[#] The components of your withdrawal will generally be required to be taken in the same proportion as the components in your account at the time of the withdrawal. For information regarding preservation ages please refer to the Preservation age table as set out on page 5.

* Indexed to Average Weekly Ordinary Times Earnings (AWOTE) in increments of $5,000 (rounded down).

[^] The ATO may calculate a higher or lower Medicare Levy amount when assessing your tax return.

Tax on death

The tax applicable to death benefits payable to beneficiaries depends on a number of factors such as how the benefit is paid (lump sum or pension), timing, the tax dependency status of your beneficiaries and age at the date of death of yourself and your beneficiaries.

Upon your death, ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover will only pay a lump sum benefit and does not offer a pension option. Consult your financial adviser or tax professional to determine the applicable tax treatment.

The following table illustrates the tax implications of paying a lump sum death benefit to dependants and non-dependants as defined for tax purposes:

Relationship to deceased	Tax free component	Taxable component
		Taxed element	Untaxed element
Tax dependant	Tax free	Tax free	Tax free
Tax non-dependant	Tax free	Up to 15% plus Medicare Levy of 2.0%	Up to 30% plus Medicare Levy of 2.0%

A lump sum death benefit paid to a non-dependant of an Australian Defence Force or police personnel who died in the line of duty has the same tax treatment as a benefit paid to a dependant.

- A dependant for tax purposes is defined differently from a dependant for superannuation purposes. For more information on who is a tax dependant, go to www.ato.gov.au or consult your financial adviser or tax professional.

Please note the tax information set out in this Additional Information Brochure is general information only and is provided by way of summary. You should consult your financial adviser and/or tax professional for detailed tax advice specific to your circumstances.

6. What else do I need to know?

Anti-Money Laundering/ Counter-Terrorism Financing Act

We are required to comply with the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Cth). To meet our obligations under this legislation, we and/or your financial adviser may be required to carry out a procedure to identify you, or in the event of death, your beneficiaries or anyone acting upon your behalf. We may also be required to report information about investors to relevant authorities (including the Australian Transactions Reports and Analysis Centre (AUSTRAC)).

Where legally permitted or obliged to do so, we may disclose information gathered to regulatory or law enforcement agencies, to our related bodies, or to other third parties.

If we are required by law to delay or refuse your request for a transaction and you incur a loss, we are not liable for this loss.

How transactions are processed

New and additional investments

The effective date of your initial rollover and any additional rollovers is generally the date we receive your correctly completed Application Form and application money (where applicable) at ClearView Life's Sydney Head Office.

Insufficient information

If we are unable to process the rollover as a result of insufficient information we will contact you to obtain the information required. If the required information is not forthcoming within 30 days of us receiving the application and/or a rollover amount we will reject the application and return any rollover monies received.

Rollovers

If your correctly completed application/ instructions and rollover payment are received at ClearView Life's Sydney Head Office by 3.00pm (Sydney time) on any business day (in Sydney), your rollover will be processed using the unit price for that business day. Applications received after 3.00pm on any business day will be processed using the unit price for the next business day. The unit price for a business day is generally calculated on the next business day in Sydney. For example, if we receive the correctly completed documentation and rollover payment prior to 3.00pm on a business day on Tuesday in Sydney, you will receive the unit price for that day. The unit price for Tuesday is generally calculated on the next business day, Wednesday. If your rollover payment is not cleared, we will cancel any units issued for that dishonoured payment.

Standard Risk Measure

The Standard Risk Measure for the investment option offered in ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover is set out in Section 5 of the PDS.

The Standard Risk Measure is based on industry guidance to allow members to compare investment options that are expected to deliver a similar number of negative annual returns over any 20 year period.

The Standard Risk Measure is not a complete assessment of all forms of investment risk, for instance it does not detail what the size of a negative return could be or the potential for a positive return to be less than a member may require to meet their objectives. Further, it does not take into account the impact of administration fees and tax on the likelihood of a negative return.

Members should still ensure they are comfortable with the risks and potential losses associated with their chosen investment option/s.

The 'Risk Bands' and 'Risk Labels' for the Standard Risk Measure are set out below:

Risk Band	Risk Label	Estimated number of negative annual returns over any 20 year period
1	Very low	Less than 0.5
2	Low	0.5 to less than 1
3	Low to medium	1 to less than 2
4	Medium	2 to less than 3
5	Medium to high	3 to less than 4
6	High	4 to less than 6
7	Very high	6 or greater

Moving your investment

Withdrawing your investment

You can withdraw your investment in full at any time. Your withdrawal will usually be paid within ten business days of us receiving your completed request.

Withdrawals from ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover are subject to preservation requirements (see page 5 for further information). We may request proof that a 'condition of release' has been met where a withdrawal request involves preserved and/or restricted non-preserved benefits.

In addition, we may also require verification of your identity when you make a request to withdraw your benefit. Refer to the section on the 'Anti-Money Laundering/Counter-Terrorism Financing Act' on page 12.

The minimum withdrawal amount for this purpose is the entire account balance.

To make a withdrawal, you must provide written instructions. If you wish for your withdrawal to be paid to an account you must provide us with the account details of your nominated Australian Bank, Building Society or Credit Union account when making a withdrawal request otherwise payment will be made by cheque.

If your completed written withdrawal request is received at ClearView Life's Sydney Head Office by 3.00pm (Sydney time) on any business day (in Sydney), your withdrawal request will be processed using the unit price for that business day.

Completed written withdrawal requests received after 3.00pm at ClearView Life's Sydney Head Office on any business day (in Sydney) will be processed using the unit price for the next business day.

We may suspend withdrawals at any time if we deem that it is in the best interests of the members as a whole. We may also effect a withdrawal from the investment option in stages, over several business days.

Labour standards and environmental, social and ethical considerations

We do not take into account labour standards or environmental, social or ethical considerations in the selection, retention or realisation of investments in relation to ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover.

Transfers to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO)

Your account balance may be transferred to the ATO if it becomes an inactive low-balance account.

Your account will be considered to be an inactive low-balance account if:

- it has a balance of less than $6,000;
- you have not met a prescribed condition of release; and
- for a continuous period of 16 months:
 - we have not received a contribution or rollover into your account;
 - you have not updated certain account details, such as changing your investment options or insurance coverage or making or amending a binding death nomination; and
 - you have not provided the Trustee with a written declaration that you are not a member with an inactive low-balance account.

We are required to report on and transfer inactive low-balance accounts to the ATO twice per year.

If your account balance is transferred to the ATO, the ATO will try to identify if you have an active super account with another super fund. If a match is found, the ATO will transfer your balance into that active account if the transfer would take your total balance to $6,000 or more. Please note if your account is transferred to the ATO, you will no longer be a member of the HUB24 Super Fund for this product.

Information about how to keep your account active is available on our website at clearview.com.au.

Changes to the HUB24 Super Fund

As the law changes it may be necessary to vary the Trust Deed of the HUB24 Super Fund and we may be of the view that it is appropriate to amend or vary the Trust Deed in other circumstances. We may only amend the Trust Deed in accordance with the terms of the Trust Deed, in compliance with the relevant legislative requirements and consistently with our duties as a trustee.

Where the law requires, we will notify members if they are affected by any changes made to the Trust Deed for the HUB24 Super Fund and the date they take effect, and will do so within the time required by law.

In accordance with our rights, we may amend any of the ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover features from time to time, subject to the provision of any applicable notice (if any). We will give you at least 30 days' advance notice of any increase in fees and charges, or the introduction of any new fees or charges. For all other material changes we will generally notify you within 90 days of the change taking effect. If the change is not materially adverse, the updated information will be available on our website at clearview.com.au/tools/pds-and-brochures.

Important documents

The Trust Deed governs the HUB24 Super Fund. The Trust Deed (and superannuation law) sets out the rights and obligations of the members of the HUB24 Super Fund and our powers and duties. We must administer the HUB24 Super Fund in accordance with the Trust Deed and the law.

If there is any inconsistency between the Trust Deed and the PDS or this Additional Information brochure, the Trust Deed will prevail to the extent of the inconsistency.

The Trust Deed contains important information about how the HUB24 Super Fund works, including:

- our right to introduce fees
- our powers in relation to how and when the benefits can be paid
- our right to be indemnified from the HUB24 Super Fund and the extent to which our liability is limited
- our power to amend the Trust Deed, and
- when and how the HUB24 Super Fund may be terminated.

We have been issued investment and life insurance policies by ClearView Life, to support the interests offered in the HUB24 Super Fund. The policies have important information about the power ClearView Life has to amend or terminate the policies, including the following information:

- right to open and close investment options
- right to transfer money out of closed investment options
- valuation of investment options
- expenses payable or recoverable in certain circumstances
- power to amend the policy in certain circumstances
- power to invest in derivatives, and
- power to invest the assets of the investment options in managed investments.

We will notify you if the terms of the policies are materially varied, including the fees charged under them, and will do so within the time required by law. Copies of the Trust Deed and the policies are available by calling 132 979.

Family law and superannuation

The division of superannuation (including superannuation pensions) in the event of marriage breakdown or separation from your spouse or de facto partner is highly complex. If you are affected it may have a significant effect on your account and your benefits. We recommend that you should seek professional advice including advice on what will happen to your superannuation in the event of a marriage breakdown or separation from your spouse or de facto partner.

Among other things your spouse or de facto partner may be eligible to:

- apply to us for information about your superannuation
- obtain orders from the Family Court in relation to your superannuation, and/or
- enter into an agreement with you in respect of your and their superannuation.

We may receive an agreement or Family Court order, which will direct us to flag or split your account. Where your account is split with your ex-spouse and they do not indicate where/ how their funds are to be paid they will have a new ClearView ClearChoice Super Rollover account set up for them and they will become a member of the HUB24 Super Fund.

We are entitled to deduct from your account the costs associated with implementing agreements, orders, flags or splits. Currently we do not make any deductions from member accounts for these costs. We may decide to do so in the future.
